

Chelmsford Center Artwalk

The artwalk is a public art gallery located along a retaining wall owned by Northern Bank and Trust Company at Ginger Ale Plaza in Chelmsford Center. Local artists Markus Lewis and Rick Lowe combined art and history to recreate scenes from a bygone era of Chelmsford's past. The scenes were selected from photographs in the archives of the Chelmsford Historical Society; Fred Miriam is the archivist and curator. Jon Diette, a landscape architect working for Emanouil Brothers, Inc., provided the design concept.

The murals will be interleaved with ivy.

View facing south. Boards for donor plaques are to the right.

View facing north.

Pay it Forward

Help bring public art to the rail trail and celebrate a truly beautiful town!

$100 - 3"x7" plaque (up to 75 characters)

$250 - 5"x7" plaque (up to 75 characters)

$500 - 7"x9" plaque (can include graphics)

$750 - 8'x4' mural (sponsor's name will be added to the mural)

or make a donation for the Chelmsford Artwalk

Send check and donation form to:

Friends of the Bruce Freeman Rail Trail

Chelmsford Artwalk

PO Box 1192

Concord, MA 01742-1192

The Chelmsford Artwalk cost $6200. To date, we have $815 in pledges and donations. That leaves $5385 that we still need to raise to cover expenses.

Once the artwalk murals are substantially paid for, we will work on murals for the Agway building in South Chelmsford. The theme will be Vignettes at the South Chelmsford RR Depot. We will be looking to the community (girl scouts, boy scouts, school students, etc.) for help with the Agway murals.

Acknowledgements

It took a village...the Friends of the Bruce Freeman Rail Trail would like to thank the many people who helped with this project.

A-1 Portable Toilets

Benjamin Moore Colorworks, Summer Street

Chelmsford Fire Department

Emanouil Brothers

Express Signs

Markus + Leslie Boutique

Massachusetts Highway Department

Moore's Lumber

Northern Bank and Trust Company

R&R Trophy and Awards

S&R Corporation

Scott's Landscaping

Town of Chelmsford

Anonymous

Eric Dahlberg

Peggy Dunn

David Flaherty

Jonathan Gianoulis

Robert Graham

Markus Lewis

Rick Lowe

Fred Merriam

Steve Roberts

Marti Spaulding

Ken Van Tassell

Support local businesses